Fascists Stage Two Air Raids on Madrid; Six Fighting Ships Lost

BOMBERS HIT BARRACKS OF LOYAL TROOPS

Fourteen Bombs Fall Within City—Early Morning Battle in Sky Watched by Citizens as Two Planes Crash—21 Ships Take Part.

Madrid, Nov. 13. (A-P)—Madrid's Montana barracks and the whole line of fortifications in the vicinity of Segovia bridge were bombed in a daring insurgent air raid late Friday—several hours after government planes had won a spectacular victory in a battle over the capital.

Three Fascist trimotors, guarded by six pursuit planes, roared out of a dense cloudbank in the western sky at 3:20 p. m. and spilled 14 huge bombs.

Five of the projectiles hit Montana barracks, where several thousand government troops are quartered.

The raid came on the heels of a mass aerial battle in which the government announced it had downed six planes.

Thousands of Madrilenos saw two planes crash, one within the city itself. The government announced both were insurgent ships and said four others had been forced from the air during a chase over insurgent lines which followed the spectacular "dog fight."

The prompt attack by nine government planes, defense leaders declared, prevented another bombardment of the city.

It was the second aerial battle directly over the capital in a fortnight.

Twenty-one planes, 12 of them raiders from the Fascist lines, participated.

One of the victims, an insurgent two-seater, crashed in flames in the courtyard of the government barracks in Rosales Street.

Three parachutes were seen billowing in the sky as the planes fell, but the wind carried them into the wooded Casa Del Campo section west of the city.

The battle began when three insurgent trimotors, escorted by nine pursuit planes, appeared over the city and began dropping leaflets urging surrender.

Nine government fighters dropped suddenly down from the clouds and opened an attack.

The trimotors sped westward while their escorts doubled back on the attackers.

Maneuvering for position, the planes exhausted virtually every move they were so high that for a time the crowds in the streets could not distinguish between insurgent and government planes.

SOCIALISTS IN CAPTURE CITY IN SURPRISE ATTACK

Madrid, Nov. 13. (A-P)—Three Fascist bombers and six pursuit planes sprayed machine gun bullets on Government lines from the Toledo bridge to University City at dusk after the Government announced recapture of Getafe, eight miles to the south.

In the first insurgent air raid on Madrid in two days, Franco's planes suddenly darted through low cloud banks, power dived, and raked the entire stretch of Government barricades, trenches and artillery batteries with a hail of lead.

Getafe was occupied by only a handful of Fascist troops, the War Ministry said, and was easily captured after a brief skirmish.

A quantity of arms and ammunition was seized, it was said.

The insurgent shells were aimed at the Government batteries in Madrid but several ripped into the heart of the city.

An unestimated number of persons were injured when several shells crashed through house-tops.

Decimated militia held their lines around Madrid on the seventh day of the bloody battle for possession of the capital.

The optimism of Madrid officials mounted hourly as their fighting men hurled back each successive attack by their foes seeking to enter Madrid by crossing the Manzanares River.

A foreign legion of some 1,000 anti-Fascist volunteers fought side by side with the regulars, and the Government expected 1,000 Catalan reinforcements would reach the capital shortly to join the 4,000 of their comrades who marched into Madrid the day before.

Britain May Speed Up Rearmament Activity

London, Nov. 13. (A-P)—Out of a bitter clash between Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin and Winston Churchill, assurances appeared Friday that Great Britain would speed up its rearmament in order to match strides with rapidly rearming Europe.

Baldwin and Churchill, wartime Minister of Munitions and first Lord of the Admiralty, crossed oratorical swords in the House of Commons Thursday night, Churchill deriding and Baldwin defending the government's policy.

Observers, however, noted their accord on the urgency of British rearmament and believed the duel had cleared the air of bitter inter-party strife.

M'GRADY MAPS NEW ATTACK IN COAST STRIKE

Issue of Hiring Halls Figures Foremost in New Effort To Bring Strikers and Employers Together—Idle Ships Clog Ports on Three Fronts.

San Francisco, Nov. 13. (A-P)—Assistant Labor Secretary Edward F. McGrady planned a new attack Friday on the crucial hiring hall issue in attempts to arrange a peace conference between employers and striking maritime unions, whose walkout two weeks ago throttled Pacific Coast shipping.

The fifteenth day of the strike, affecting 37,000 union workers, found no break in the deadlock, with idle ships clogging coast ports, and sympathy strikes along the Atlantic and Gulf Coasts.

Before the Federal Maritime Commission was to hear the case, and tapped telephone lines in efforts to "discredit" the union movement and the union right of collective bargaining.

In New York, sailing of the big intercoastal liner, Pennsylvania, was cancelled as an outgrowth of the strike, and a Los Angeles Federal Marshal was ordered to show cause why he could not carry out a Federal Court order to unload perishable cargo.

McGrady said he would present to shipowners Friday a guarded proposal for control of waterfront hiring halls, which both unions and employers seem determined to operate individually.

Under terms of the 1934 maritime strike peace, joint control was established, but shipowners charged the unions appropriated full control.

McGrady said if the employers indicated approval of his plan, he would attempt to get them together with union representatives in a peace conference, long delayed by "difficulties and unnamed obstacles."

McGrady indicated the trend of events might determine whether he would return to Washington this week-end.

The Maritime Commission withdrew from the strike picture after a hearing Thursday in which H. P. Melnikow, counsel for six of the seven striking unions, charged employers with seeking to discredit unions through a spy system involving private detectives and tapped telephone lines. He charged unwanted union men were blacklisted and working agreements violated by shippers.

B. H. Lewis Reminded Of Friday the 13th

B. H. Lewis, Route 2, Vernon, defied superstition on Friday the 13th and as a result several stitches were necessary to close a severe cut on his forehead. While painting his house Friday morning, Lewis had a ladder brought bad luck. As he walked beneath the ladder, it fell, the blow causing a severe laceration of his forehead. Said Mr. Lewis, "That's the first really bad luck I ever had."

INDUSTRIAL LEGISLATION UNDER STUDY

Conference Called Dec. 10 To Map Plans for Long-Time Stabilization—Licensing System Talked by Wyoming Senator—Guffey Forms Bill.

Washington, Nov. 13. (A-P)—In at least three sectors of the Capital, plans and studies, looking toward Federal regulation of industrial activities or labor conditions or both, were in progress Friday.

President Roosevelt's coordinator for industrial cooperation, Major George L. Berry, explained that a conference of business and labor leaders which he has called for Dec. 10 would draw up suggestions for "industrial legislation looking toward long time stabilization of recovery."

"Creation of employment opportunity, and improvement of competitive and labor conditions in industry," will be other aims of the parity, Berry announced. The objectives of the conference, as described, were similar to the aims of the old NRA, but there was no announcement as to just what new methods may be urged to attain those aims.

Senator O'Mahoney, Democrat, Wyoming, disclosed he was preparing a new bill to regulate interstate corporations through a Federal licensing system. Corporations doing business over state lines would be subject to license, which could be revoked if the corporations employed child labor, discriminated against women in wage scales or interfered with union activities.

THOROUGHBREDS SET FOR WAGGONER MEMORIAL RACE AT ARLINGTON

Arlington Downs, Nov. 13. (P)—Between 12 and 16 of the Nation's crack thoroughbreds will start Saturday in the $15,000 added Waggoner Memorial Handicap, feature of the Texas Jockey Club's Fall meeting.

The stake, which honors the memory of the late W. T. Waggoner, founder of Arlington Downs, had its inception as the Waggoner handicap in 1933 when it was won by Gay World, the San Antonio wonder horse. The second running went to Ted Clark and Top Row, the Santa Anita handicap winner, raced in first last year.

RED CROSS PROCLAMATION ISSUED BY VERNON MAYOR

Mayor H. D. Hockersmith has issued a proclamation urging the citizens of Vernon to cooperate in the annual Red Cross membership drive now under way. The proclamation follows:

The annual roll call for the Wilbarger Chapter of the American Red Cross began on Armistice Day, Nov. 11, and ends on Thanksgiving Day. There is little need for me to remind citizens of our community how vital the Red Cross is in the life of our country. During the past year, both from actual observation and from the accounts of work which we have seen just how important it is that we have an active agency of the American people to administer assistance when the need arises.

The frequency with which this need does arise has been demonstrated during the past twelve months when we recall the floods, the tornadoes, the hurricanes, and the epidemics that have been suffered in various parts of this great country, and the work that the Red Cross has done to relieve distress and actual suffering as a result of these catastrophes. Other but less spectacular work carried on by the Red Cross has been just as important.

The Red Cross comes to us now with another appeal for membership dues that will finance the work during the year ahead. Our Red Cross asks little from the community, yet contributes much to the general welfare of our people.

For this reason, I sincerely urge those who are asked to participate in this great program by paying the relatively small membership to respond in a spirit of good neighborliness. I hope all will take part in the work by becoming members of the society.

Now, therefore, as mayor of Vernon, to hereby set aside the designated period as the time when all past members will be asked to renew their membership and for those who have not enrolled before to add their names to the ranks of Red Cross members in our community. (Signed) H. D. HOCKERSMITH, Mayor.

COURT SEEKS 1,000 HEIRS TO SETTLE LAND TITLE

Edinburg, Nov. 13. (P)—Upon decree of the Ninety-second District Court, about 1,000 heirs in Texas, California, and Mexico, are to be sought to effect partitioning of about 4,000 acres of land in Starr County. Oscar Kirkland, appointed master by the court, says the original ownership of the land, located near the Samfordville oil field, was traced to a Spanish grant of about 1767.

Kirkland says that identification of the heirs was through records at Camargo, Mexico. While searching church records there in 1907, in Hidalgo County, Texas, he was able to obtain long list of early residents of the border country.

District Clerk C. K. Boyesen says the papers bearing upon the partitioning number 375 pages.

REPUBLICAN OPPONENT
CONGRATULATES ALLRED

Austin, Nov. 13. (P)—Governor Allred Friday received congratulations on his re-election from C. C. Harris of San Angelo, the Republican gubernatorial nominee.

"You cannot have a more loyal supporter or well wisher for the success of your administration than myself," Harris said.

"No one but an extraordinary person, as well as a most deserving official, could have won the nomination for Governor over five others as you did in the July primary."

STRIP CROPPING USED IN CONTROLLING EROSION

Temple, Nov. 13. (P)—Charles Coker, farmer near here, found an effective method of controlling erosion on his farm by a system of strategically placed permanent meadow strips and terraces.

In one year, and without losing a crop, Coker says he established meadow strips of little blue stem grass. At the same time he is using a system of strip cropping with oats and clover which qualifies him for payments under the AAA soil conservation program.

Coker declares he is partial to permanent meadow strips as a means of checking erosion, since they are cheaper than terraces and easier to maintain.

LAND USE MAP PLANNED FOR WALKER COUNTY

Huntsville, Nov. 13. (P)—Prof. J. L. Clark, head of the history department at Sam Houston State Teachers College, announces that schools of the county, in cooperation with the Science Department of the college, will make a large, detailed "land utilization" map of Walker County.

The map would show the timber land, arable land, pasture, fallow acreage, and other classifications of soil usage in the county.

Miss Harriet Smith of the college will supervise the work of pupils in the various schools, contributing the information necessary in their districts. Prof. Clark believes this will be the first undertaking of its kind in Texas.

VACUUM OIL PUMP CASE SENT BACK FOR RETRIAL

Austin, Nov. 13. (P)—The Supreme Court Thursday affirmed action of a Court of Civil Appeals in sending back for retrial a case from Wichita County involving possible damage to an oil lease by a vacuum pump.

In the trial court, the Grange Oil Company was awarded judgment in its suit against Ed Peterson and others, alleging damages to its property from operations of a pump on an adjacent lease.

The Supreme Court said that while Rule 40 of the Railroad Commission relating to use of pumps was involved in the case, it was not presented at the present time and no opinion on its validity was given.

BAPTISTS TOLD OF FIGHT ON PARI-MUTUEL BETTING

Mineral Wells, Nov. 13. (P)—Dr. F. M. McConnell, editor of the Baptist Standard, told the Baptist General Convention Thursday an organization was being perfected throughout the State to seek repeal of laws allowing pari-mutuel betting.

Dr. McConnell said a roulette wheel was a "sound investment" compared to race track gambling.

He said he expected church support of the movement, but that the organization would also seek aid from unaffiliated citizens in opposing what he termed defrauding stenographers and harboring men of their earnings.

He said a committee of 100 would actively direct the drive.

HARRY CROSBY GIVEN CHANCE BY PHYSICIANS

Los Angeles, Calif., Nov. 13. (P)—The flying luck of smiling Harry Crosby ran out in a head-stick landing Thursday physicians said the 28-year-old speed pilot would survive his critical injuries.

The tiny 300-mile-an-hour monoplane Crosby flew to sixth place in the Thompson trophy dash of the 1936 National Air Races crashed near suburban Van Nuys Wednesday when the motor went dead.

After skimming high tension wires, the all-metal silver ship was demolished in Big Tujunga wash. An hour later, his chest crushed and scalp lacerated, Crosby was pulled from the wreckage.

VALUE OF CORPUS CHRISTI OIL FIELD ESTIMATED

Corpus Christi, Nov. 13. (P)—It is estimated that the Corpus Christi oil field, one year old Oct. 30, put more than $3,500,000 in circulation. The field was discovered by J. K. Cullen, independent operator here, when he drilled the No. 1 H. B. Baldwin in 1935.

Oct. 15, the field had 179 producing wells with approximately 1,050 acres proven. Seven dry holes were drilled. The total allowable Oct. 1 was 8,229 barrels daily. Total production to the same date is estimated at 1,450 barrels. The average cost for each well was about $19,000.

Going Forward

WITH OUR FARMER
FRIENDS

The farm situation in America is undergoing a mighty change. Our farms produce more food than our people can eat and other nations are buying less of us.

Finding new industrial uses for our farm products is one answer to the problem. Controlled production, diversification, and soil conservation, give other answers. A new future is in the making for the farmer.

This bank is taking an active interest in agricultural progress. We are working in every possible way to promote greater prosperity for the farmers of this section. Let us cooperate with you.

OREGON WOMAN WINS OFFICE

MRS. HONEYMAN IS "NAN" TO ROOSEVELT; ENTERED POLITICS IN 1934

Portland, Ore., Nov. 13. (AP)—Officially President Roosevelt will address the new Representative from Oregon's Third District as Mrs. Honeyman, but away from the executive office, she's just "Nan" to him.

The 55-year-old grandmother has known the Roosevelts since long before the chief executive ever dreamed of the presidency. The acquaintanceship began in 1904, when Mrs. Honeyman, then Nanny Wood, and Eleanor Roosevelt were bridesmaids at the wedding of Helen R. Roosevelt and Theodore Douglas Robinson at Hyde Park. Franklin Roosevelt was an usher at the wedding.

A typical American housewife is the new Congresswoman, a homemaker for her husband and children.

Mrs. Honeyman was unknown in Oregon politics until she became active for the repeal of the 18th Amendment. In the 1934 State elections she nearly topped the Democratic ticket as a candidate for the Legislature. She defeated Representative William Ekwall to swell the Roosevelt strength in the House of Representatives.

ARMY SCHOOL PLAN AIRED

TWO TEXAS ARMY POSTS AID ENLISTED MEN TO ENTER WEST POINT

Fort Sam Houston, Nov. 13. (AP)—To encourage "promising, industrious young men who aspire to become the nation's future army officers," officials at Eighth Corps headquarters here say, the army permits them to enlist for a year with a view to obtaining appointments to the United States Military Academy.

This type of enlistment makes the recruits eligible to the West Point preparatory schools conducted under direction of Maj. Gen. H. J. Brees, commanding the Eighth Corps Area. The largest of four such schools is maintained at Camp Bullis, 18 miles north of San Antonio, and the others at Fort Sill, Okla., Fort Bliss, Texas, and Fort Francis E. Warren, Wyo.

The cadets are divided into two sections, each occupying separate barracks. While one is in the classroom the other studies in barracks under supervision of a commissioned officer. The subjects taught are mathematics, algebra, plane geometry, ancient and United States history, English, grammar, composition, and English and American literature.

The men spend three hours a day in class recitation and two hours in the supervised study hall. Each also is required to participate for an hour a half each day in some sport.

The material covered in the three months course at the prep school is equal to that ordinarily covered in a year's academic course elsewhere. For this reason the pre-students are located at Camp Bullis away from distractions of a city, and none is permitted to be absent from the camp during the week. The school is under direction of Lieut. S. R. Stewart, Air Corps, and aided by five lieutenant-teachers.

LIQUOR BOARD INSPECTORS CHECK STATE DRUG STORES

Austin, Nov. 13. (AP)—Liquor Board inspectors Thursday started checking drug stores affected by an Attorney General's ruling that all users of alcohol must take out industrial permits.

Officials said use of alcohol in prescriptions would place approximately 2,500 pharmacies in this classification. The permits cost $10 each and revenue was expected to total about $25,000.

AMERICAN LIBERTY LEAGUE TO CONTINUE OPERATIONS

New York, Nov. 13. (AP)—Jonett Shouse, president of the American Liberty League, said Thursday leaders of the League had no intention of disbanding or restricting their activities.

Shouse said the opening of the next Congress would find the League as active as it was at the last session.

"It is true," he said, "that we have reduced our staff in Washington, but the reduction was made because there was no need for a large staff when Congress was not in session. We started cutting the staff during the summer."

One of the first acts planned by the League in its resumption of activity, it is understood, will be the issuance of opinions by the organization's lawyers' committee as to the constitutionality of several New Deal laws.

NEW FEATURES OF THE 1937 FORD V-8 CAR

APPEARANCE—A newly designed car—wide and roomy, with a low center of gravity. Distinctive front end, with headlamps recessed in fender aprons. Modern lid-type hood hinged at the back. Larger luggage space. Spare tire enclosed within body. Completely new interiors. The slanting V-type windshield opens in closed cars.

ENGINES—A choice of the improved V-8 85-horsepower engine or the new V-8 60-horsepower engine. More efficient cooling. Quieter performance. New economy.

COMFORT AND QUIET—By every modern standard of design, the 1937 Ford V-8 is a big, roomy car. Extra space is in the body, where you want it—not taken up by the engine under the hood. Comfort of the Ford Center-Poise Ride is further increased by smoother action of the long-tapering springs, with new pressure lubrication. New methods of mounting body and engine make this a quieter car.

SAFETY

BRAKES—New Easy-Action Safety Brakes, of the cable and conduit control type. Positive and direct—"the safety of steel from pedal to wheel." Self-energizing—car momentum is used to help apply the brakes. About one-third less pedal pressure is required to stop the car.

BODY—All-steel body construction. Not an ounce of wood used for structural strength. Frame structure is all-steel—sheathed with steel panels, top, sides and floor. All are welded into a single steel unit of great protective strength. Safety Glass all around at no extra charge.

smoothness and quietness—even at speeds up to 70 miles an hour—with gasoline mileage so high that it creates an entirely new standard of economy in modern motor car operation.

We invite you to see this new Ford car, and arrange to drive one equipped with the engine that fits your own needs.

BOAST FATAL TO BOY, 18

YOUTH FALLS DEAD AFTER DRINKING LIQUOR ON DETROIT STREET

Detroit, Nov. 12. (AP)—An 18-year-old high school football player died Thursday after fulfilling what Police Lieutenant William Brine said was a boast he could drink a pint of whiskey.

The youth, Fred Mangas, Jr., was a member of the St. Paul's High School team.

Lieut. Brine said Mangas' two companions, Walter Jaskelainen, 18, and Carl Gummerson, 17, told him the youth made his boast after they attended a theater last night. The officer quoted Jaskelainen as saying he bought the whiskey at a drug store and that Mangas drank it as the three walked along, started to run "to show us he was still sober," and fell to the sidewalk.

Unable to revive him, the youths carried Mangas home where a physician pronounced him dead.

TEXAS COUNTIES EXCEED QUOTAS IN AIDING PARTY

Austin, Nov. 12. (AP)—Roy Miller, state director of the Democratic National campaign committee, said Thursday 61 counties had equalled or exceeded their quotas to the Roosevelt-Garner campaign fund. Seven of the 21 congressional districts exceeded their quotas.

Miller said, however, that due to a $500,000 deficit in the National fund, Texas Democrats have been requested to contribute an additional $50,000 to the $275,000 already raised.

"I cannot help but feel," he said, "that the loyal Democrats of Texas will be glad to render this further service as an expression of their appreciation of our party's great victory."

In the new campaign the counties and districts which failed to raise their quotas will be given an opportunity to do so.

PRICE-FIXING STUDY ASKED

TURKEY GROWERS REFUSE TO SELL BIRDS AT 11-CENT PRICE

Gonzales, Texas, Nov. 12. (AP)—Incensed turkey growers demanded a "price fixing" investigation in a telegram to Attorney General Homer Cummings Thursday and kept one of the world's most prolific turkey centers tied up in protest to what they termed a "uniform market" and low prices.

More than 250,000 turkeys strutted the Gonzales County ranges while owners steadfastly refused to send them to Thanksgiving markets at current prices of 11 and 12 cents.

Seven leading raisers dispatched telegrams to Cummings and William McCraw, Texas Attorney General, urging an investigation of alleged violations of anti-trust laws in regard to the turkey market.

T. W. Steiner, chairman of the State Farm Grange Executive Commission, and one of the signers of the telegrams, said:

"I think general conditions justify a much higher price for turkeys. While there are more turkeys this year, the buying power of the public is greater and in fairness to the raisers and consumers it might be well for the Government to do some investigating."

ALLRED EXPRESSES REGRET AS TO LOSS OF CHEVIGNY

Austin, Nov. 12. (AP)—Governor Allred expressed regret Thursday that Jack Chevigny he would not apply for reappointment as football coach at the University of Texas.

"He is a fine fellow, a splendid coach and has a good team," the Governor said. "That one victory over Notre Dame two years ago made up for a lot of unfortunate losses."

MARINES PLAY WICHITA TEAM

"B" SQUADS MEET ON CITY PARK GRIDIRON AT 2:30 SATURDAY

The Wichita Falls High School "B" football squad will invade Vernon for a game Saturday afternoon with the Vernon Marines. The contest will be played at the City Park Stadium, beginning at 2:30 o'clock, according to Wilson Herring, Marine coach.

The 1936 Marine schedule will be completed here Monday afternoon in a game at 2:30 o'clock with the Crowell "B" team.

CHICAGO CUBS STILL ON BLOCK AS TRADES TALKED

Chicago, Nov. 13. (AP)—The sword still hangs high over the heads of all Chicago Cubs.

Manager Charlie Grimm said so Friday as he conferred with Owner P. K. Wrigley over possible trades which would strengthen the team which won the pennant in 1935, then skidded badly from the top last season. Every member of the team, Grimm said, is subject to trades which would improve the outfit.

Particularly, Grimm would like a hard-hitting outfielder, and intimates efforts will be made to land Wally Berger of the Boston Bees or Hank Leiber of the New York Giants. A third baseman such as Lew Riggs of Cincinnati also would be welcomed, the manager said.

East Texas Freshmen Win

Commerce, Nov. 13. (AP)—An intercepted pass in the last 30 seconds of play and a 100-yard gallop by Millard Massey for a touchdown gave the East Texas freshmen a 12 to 7 victory over Hillsboro Junior College Thursday night. Flits of several members of both teams were swinging freely when the gun sounded.

RAZORBACKS IN SPOTLIGHT AT DALLAS FOR GRID GAME

Dallas, Nov. 13. (AP)—Pass crazy Arkansas, now best known as the team that beat Texas A. & M., comes to town Saturday seeking a first mortgage on the Southwest Conference title.

They couldn't claim full ownership but a triumph over Southern Methodist would put them in a good spot to contest other claims, notably those of Texas Christian and Texas A. and M.

The only conference game of the day but slightly overshadowed two of the other five skirmishes booked by circuit clubs. The Southwest and the nation will be watching the spectacular marathon march of the Texas Aggies against the University of Utah and the University of Texas' bid against mighty Minnesota.

Texas Christian fires its passes against Centenary at Fort Worth; Baylor invades Stillwater, Okla., to engage the Oklahoma Aggies and Rice, halted in its gallant comeback by Arkansas last week, has a setup in the Sam Houston Teachers at Houston.

The Arkansasans, their pass-chunking backfield intact with the return of Fullback Jack Holt, will unpack the nation's most dazzling aerial unit at Owenby Stadium for the Methodist clash. Fourteen of their touchdowns this season have floated across the goal line while 1,155 yards have been picked up in the air. Handsome Jack Robbins, fine triple-threat quarterback, is the generator of the Razorback machine.

To combat this machine, Matty Bell plans to fight fire with fire. Woefully weak against a Texas Aggie passing game that smothered them last week, 22-6, the Methodist have drilled into nightfall to perfect means of stopping the Porkers' raid—the raid that felled A. and M. 18-0 only two weeks ago.

They're still wondering how Arkansas squelched an Aggie team that has, in five days, walloped Southern Methodist and San Francisco's Dons, 38-14. On the longest single jaunt in conference history, the Aggies move against the University of Utah at Salt Lake City Saturday favored to knock the perennial Rocky Mountain Conference champions kicking. They left Dick Todd, ace halfback, in a Dallas hospital, before starting on the journey but still hung up the most lopsided intersectional victory in the coast's history Armistice Day.

TENNIS COMMITTEE HAS WORRY ON RANKING PAIR

New York, Nov. 13. (AP)—The delicate task of selecting Alice Marble or Helen Hull Jacobs for the No. 1 spot in the 1936 National tennis "first ten" is troubling members of the U. S. Lawn Tennis Association's six-man ranking committee.

With precedent to work on, the committeemen are deliberating carefully to determine whether Miss Marble, conqueror of Miss Jacobs in the final of this year's U. S. championship, or Miss Jacobs, four times American titleholder and reigning All-England champion should get the lead-off position.

Twenty-two years ago the solons were confronted with an almost identical situation after E. Norris Williams defeated Maurice McLoughlin, 6-3, 8-6, 10-8, in the final of the 1914 tournament.

Up to that time victory in the championship virtually carried with it the No. 1 ranking. Taking into consideration McLoughlin's previous triumph over Williams that year and his victories over Tony Wilding and Norman Brookes of Australia in the Davis Cup challenge round, played in New York, the committee ranked McLoughlin No. 1 and Williams No. 2.

PUNTS AND PASSES

(By The Associated Press)

New York—Fordham says there's "no proof needed" about the greatness of the Rams' forward wall, but just to give you some idea of its strength, the following statistics are furnished: The opposition in four games—Southern Methodist, St. Mary's, Pitt and Purdue—was held to a total of 15 first downs by rushing, and averaged only 1.57 yards per rush through the line, with Pitt's powerhouse leading the way with 2.5 yards per try.

Fayetteville, Ark.—Stringing along with the statisticians, the Arkansas News Bureau, which does the publicity job for the "passingest team in the Nation," announces an "average game" for the Razorbacks: 31 passes thrown per game; 13 (or about 41 per cent) completed, each good for a gain of better than 12 yards; two touchdowns per game scored by the aerial route.

Durham, N. C.—For a "hard-luck guy" take Ace Parker, Duke's ball-carrying star. In the Colgate game he took a pass and went 36 yards for a touchdown, only to have the play called back for clipping. In the South Carolina battle, a 78-yard touchdown run was nullified by officials for the same reason. Against Lake Forest last week, he got off a 73-yard sprint over the goal line, but Duke was caught clipping again. That's 18 points off Parker's season total.

University, Ala.—While they've been boosting the strength of that forward wall at Fordham, the Crimson Tide has been more or less overlooked. But you can't get away from the statistics, which show only two teams—Loyola and Tulane—have been able to score a total of only 14 points against the Crimson tide, while Bama has been rolling up 124 points.

Detroit—Coach Gus Dorais at Detroit still is amazed. As is his annual custom, he sent out questionnaires to all the "Titties" rivals at the beginning of the season. The general rule is for the opposition to do a lot of "moaning" low in replying. Dorais almost fell out of the chair, however, when North Dakota came up with the flat statement the material was fine and the prospects best in years.

State College, Pa.—Introducing intercollegiate football's "noisy backfield" for the year—Penn State's quartet of little fellows, averaging 133 pounds, probably the smallest major college ball carrying squad in the country. Individually they are: Harry Harrison, halfback, 144; Sam Donato, halfback, 145; Red O'Hara, quarterback, 153; Joe Metro, fullback, 165.

Bloomington, Ind.—Another set of first rate postman prospects are performing at Indiana. They carry the mail like veterans, those Hoosier backs. So far this year, they've totaled 1,543 yards from scrimmage in six games, an average of 257.3 per meeting.

Wesley Panthers Win

Paris, Nov. 13. (AP)—The Wesley College Panthers came from behind Thursday night to defeat Paris Junior College, 19 to 13. Fans swarmed onto the field after the game when two rival players engaged in a fist fight. Several other fights occurred but no one was injured.

ELECTRA GAME TO DRAW FANS

PIRATE-PICADOR CLASH AT ALTUS SHARES IN INTEREST OF FANS

With activities of the Vernon High Schools Lions concluded for the week, two out-of-town football games tonight are claiming major attention of Vernon fans—the Electra-Wichita Falls battle at Electra and the contest between the Texas Tech Freshmen and the Altus College Pirates at Altus. Many Vernon people will be seen at both games, with the larger number at the Electra stadium.

Since Burk Burnett is practically "in" as the District 10-B champion, the Crowell-Seymour battle for second place at Crowell claims principal interest in Class B circles of Northwest Texas. Children will attempt to maintain its perfect 2-A conference record in a game with the Graham Steers at Graham. Unsettling the Olney Cubs, 7 to 0, the Steers have hopes of springing another surprise tonight.

Among the most interested spectators at the Tiger-Coyote clash in Electra will be members of the Lion football squad and their coaches. The only game remaining on the Vernon schedule will be played here Thanksgiving with Wichita Falls.

ARREST OF MINISTER IN SOVIET BALKS MARRIAGE

Moscow, Nov. 13. (AP)—Elaborate plans for the first big American church wedding here since the United States recognized Soviet Russia three years ago were balked because the only available Protestant minister became suddenly "unavailable."

Responsible sources said the preacher, the Rev. R. Streck of the German Lutheran Church, had been placed in jail, presumably in connection with an alleged plot against the government.

(The German Embassy asked the Soviet Foreign Office for details of the arrest of several Germans, reported involved with three Austrians, one Swede and other persons in an alleged Fascist conspiracy).

Mr. Streck is known as the "diplomatic pastor" because most Protestant diplomats in Moscow have attended his church.

The American Embassy was trying to communicate with Vice Consul George Minor, who went to Helsinki, Finland, to meet his fiancée, Mildred Wright. Miss Wright was to arrive in Helsinki from the United States.

Minor and Miss Wright, both from Charleston, W. Va., had planned to be married at the Lutheran Church Saturday. The Embassy had arranged an important reception at Spazio house, the residence of the American Ambassador.

Hegari Production Up.
Farwell, Nov. 13. (AP)—O. M. Merri-man of the Lariat Community south-east of here told County Agent Jason O. Gordon he averaged 30 bushels of threshed Hegari an acre on his 200 acre farm. He says the land was listed and cultivated on the contour, and the excellent results made despite dry weather.

PADUCAH WINS AT SPUR, 6-0

LOUIS FIGHT PLANS PUSHED

Paducah, Nov. 13.—Paducah won the south hulk championship of District 4-B Wednesday, Nov. 11, when they won over Spur 6-0, before a crowd of 5,000 persons.

Both teams played on even terms most of the game, Spur made six first downs to Paducah's five.

The lone tally came in the third quarter when Irons intercepted a Spur pass on the Spur 40-yard line and carried it to the 10. After two plays Moore ran the remaining 10 yards for the touchdown. Blythe missed the kick.

Irons and Hindman of the Paducah eleven intercepted seven of Spur's passes and Paducah had three passes intercepted.

Paducah was penalized once for 5 yards and Spur was penalized twice for 20 yards.

Blythe, Craig and Irons were outstanding for the Paducah Dragons and Harrison, Garner and Bumpas for the Spur Bulldogs.

CARDINAL SBARRETTI OF ROME IS 80 YEARS OLD

Rome, Nov. 13. (AP)—Cardinal Donato Sbarretti, who has extensive connections in the United States, celebrated his eightieth birthday Thursday.

He is the second oldest member and vice-dean of the Sacred College. Pope Pius sent him congratulations and a special blessing.

Cardinal Sbarretti was auditor of the apostolic delegation in Washington from 1892 until after the Spanish-American war. Then he became one of the negotiators in settling the status of the church in territories taken over by the United States from Spain.

Cardinal Sbarretti received much attention in America 30 years ago when Judge William Howard Taft, not yet President, was in Rome on a special mission from President Theodore Roosevelt to negotiate relations between church and state in the Philippines.

The prelate was already en route to his post and had reached Washington. At that moment Judge Taft, acting on instructions from President Theodore Roosevelt, entered a formal protest against the naming of an apostolic delegate to the Philippines.

The program, sponsored by agricultural agents in 20 counties, provides for feeding calves in lots of one to a carload.

"Heretofore county agents encouraged boys to feed club calves and look to neighboring towns to furnish them a market," Martin says. "But those towns do not offer a representative livestock market. We fail unless we go all the way with club boys from feedlots to terminal market. Club boys should know how to market their finished animals as well as how to feed them."

VALLEY UNION GROWERS TRANSPLANT BERMUDAS

$100,000 GUARANTEE IS AWAITED BEFORE RING CONTRACTS SIGNED

New York, Nov. 13. (AP)—The Brad-dock-Louis heavyweight championship fight negotiations hung Friday upon the ability of Promoter Herman (Mugger) Taylor of Philadelphia to raise $100,000 quickly.

The upshot of all the talking was that Joe Gould, Jimmy Braddock's manager, said he would sign as soon as Taylor put up the $100,000 as evidence of his good faith in offering the champion four times that amount to meet Louis in a 12-round exhibition in the big Atlantic City Convention Hall in February. Taylor said he expected to get the money without difficulty.

Mike Jacobs, who handles Joe Louis' affairs, said he was ready to sign as soon as he sees Braddock's name on a contract. President John Reed Kilpatrick of Madison Square Garden decided to take no steps until something actually were done about the signing.

The Garden has a contract with Braddock to make his first title defense under its promotion against Max Schmeling.

Use of Silos Gains.
Amherst, Nov. 13. (AP)—Donald Turner, Lamb County Agent, says 5,000 tons of feed will be stored in silos throughout the county this fall. The silos range in capacity from 25 to 400 tons, contents of the former to be used for dairy herds and the larger containers for cattle feeding.

States is estimated at 16,000,000.

HIGH SCHOOL CARD LISTED

PORT ARTHUR EXPECTED TO WIN DISTRICT RACE THROUGH FORFEIT

Dallas, Nov. 13. (AP)—Texas Interscholastic League football teams prepared Friday for 18 more conference games that will close out the busiest week's schedule of the season.

Fifteen will be played Friday and Friday night, headlined by the clash at San Antonio between undefeated, untied Kerrville and Thomas Jefferson, a game which will have a bearing on the District 12 championship. Beaumont and Port Arthur finish their conference schedule in District 14 this week, each hoped to win and remain undefeated in the championship race. Beaumont plays Goose Creek and Port Arthur meets Galveston.

Indications are that if both teams hurdle their opponents this week, Port Arthur will win the title via the forfeit route, according to E. C. McDonald, Beaumont, district chairman.

Beaumont has refused to play Port Arthur because the latter has a 12-grade school and eligibility starts a year later than at other institutions.

McDonald says although no action has been taken by the committee, he assumes that by declining to play the game Beaumont forfeits to Port Arthur and he supposes it will be so decided when it comes time for the committee to pass on it.

Three games were played Thursday night, one of conference nature, Masonic Home and W. C. Stripling played to a 6-6 tie in the Fort Worth district. The result merely increased North Side's leadership. Tie games count a half-game won, half-game lost in this district.

San Jacinto (Houston) defeated Kirwin (Galveston) 6-0 and San Antonio Tech won over Laredo 6-0 in non-conference games.

Laredo, Nov. 13. (AP)—Onion growers in this area say transplanting of Bermudas from seedbeds to field will begin the latter part of this month, employing several hundred laborers. The young plants, seeded in September and early October, are said to be in the best condition for a number of years. Light rain before planting prepared the ground for quick germination, and further rain after the young shoots came through the ground speeded growth.

It is estimated the production this season will not exceed 1,000 carloads. Large production in other parts of the country last year created a surplus and adversely affected the price of onions grown in this region.

BANTAMWEIGHTS MEET IN CHAMPIONSHIP MATCH

New York, Nov. 13. (AP)—Manhattan's fight fans turned Friday to a real championship bout—the 15-round meeting between Sixto Escobar and Carlos (Indian) Quintana at Madison Square Garden Friday night.

Escobar, quite a clouter for his size, will put his bantamweight title on the block against a rival who beat him last Summer in an overweight match. Although he's looked bad at times when his title was not at stake, Sixto usually has done well whenever the chips were down and he's training hard.

Quintana, another bush swinger, figured to make things interesting, however. Escobar was favored in the light betting, 7-5.

RAILWAY GETS CHECK FOR STOLEN RIDE IN 1931

Raymondville, Nov. 13. (AP)—N. G. Parr, ticket agent for a railroad here, relates an experience that, he says, suggests latent honesty or the lifting of the depression.

He received a letter from Lincoln, Neb., in October requesting the fares from Combs to Raymondville, and from Raymondville to Odom. The writer said he rode the "blinds" between those stations in January, 1931, and wanted to pay for the transportation. Parr quoted the fares and inquired the reason for wanting to pay the debt.

He soon received another letter, enclosing a money order for $4.80, in which the writer said he knew the debt existed and, wishing to be honest, desired the pay it and square with the world.

HE MADE A TEN-YEAR TEST WITH ALL-BRAN

Say good-bye to the headaches, the low spirits, the sleeplessness that often follow common constipation. Just read this letter:

"In 1926, I started using ALL-BRAN. And now, after ten years, during which I have put Kellogg's ALL-BRAN to a long, hard test, I am writing you this letter. It is better to eat this food and be in condition, than to resort to laxatives." —Bernard Altman, 63 Goodale Road, Mattapan, Mass.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN will help you too. Its "bulk" absorbs moisture within the body, forms a soft mass, gently cleanses the system. Tests prove it is safe and effective.

ALL-BRAN is guaranteed. Try it a week. If not satisfactory, your money will be refunded by the Kellogg Company.

Just eat two tablespoonfuls daily. Either as a cereal, or in recipes. How much better to use this food than to take patent medicines. Buy ALL-BRAN at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

STATE BOARDS TO HANDLE LEGAL MATTERS UNDER NEW REGULATIONS

Rome, Nov. 13. (AP)—Premier Mussolini has decided to abolish existing Italian courts of law, substituting state committees and socializing the legal profession, official sources disclosed Friday.

Attorneys described the project as "one of the most important changes in 20th century jurisprudence."

A committee of eminent lawyers and officials from the Ministry of Justice is working out the details to replace the courts with the state boards, authoritative quarters asserted.

The committee's report is expected to be finished soon, when it will be handed to the Ministry of Justice for action.

Substitution of corporate state committees for courts of law would prove one of the most interesting experiments of modern times, attorneys commented.

Cases involving monetary considerations connected with certain products—such as wheat, automobiles, transportation and the like—would be settled by committees of guilds embracing those products.

Labor matters will be settled by labor committees.

The Ministry of the Interior would appoint committees to deal with criminal charges.

Attorneys said that under the new system lawyers would become government functionaries the same as judges and other employees.

The state would pay them regular salaries rather than fees.

Attorneys' functions would center around attempts to ascertain the truth in a case and present facts to the jury clearly without passionate appeals for clients' interests.

The interests of the state would transcend the interests of the individual.

The number of lawyers would probably be limited after a certain period of experimentation.

The mints were also in red, white, and blue.

Mrs. Ed Lehman greeted the guests as they arrived and requested them to sign in the register. A number of gifts were received by the honoree. ## RENOVATION OF KITCHENS URGED BY HOME AGENT

"Backgrounds for Kitchens" was the subject discussed by Miss Doris Leggett, County Home Demonstration Agent, at a meeting of the Red Valley Home Demonstration Club Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. F. C. Irons.

Kitchens should first be well lighted and ventilated; then the walls and wood work should be cleaned and painted in a color suitable to the location of the kitchen, Miss Leggett told the club. A northeast kitchen should have light wood work such as ivory or cream, and the walls should also be cream or pale yellow. In kitchens with south exposures a soft gray, green, or blue combination is pleasing, she added. She emphasized the importance of order, cleanliness, and convenience in the kitchen.

In the afternoon business session, Mrs. C. M. Kester was appointed kitchen demonstrator and Mrs. Wayne Bell was named wardrobe demonstrator. Officers elected for the year were: Mrs. W. F. Shelton, president; Mrs. W. L. Hart, vice president; Mrs. L. E. Key, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. C. G. Crain, parliamentarian; Mrs. C. D. Shelton, county delegate; Mrs. F. C. Irons, Federation delegate; and Mrs. G. W. Stover, reporter.

Delphin Review By Killough Has Good Attendance

The Chinese people as they are, not as they appear to themselves or as they have appeared in fiction, is the way they are described by Dr. Lin Yutang in "My China and My People," which was reviewed Thursday afternoon by R. D. L. Killough. An excellent attendance marked the Fall by the Delphin Club.

Mr. Killough told his audience that he had been interested in the Chinese people since his boyhood, and during the course of the review he gave humorous interpretations of a anecdotes and sketches which were drawn from his experience rather than from the book. He introduced his talk with a biographical sketch of the author, naming a number of works which he has accomplished.

He described China as the oldest living nation of continuous culture and with the largest population. She has a philosophy and a humor all her own, and named her greatest culture lag, China's failure to advance in the physical or natural sciences. As a politically chaotic and misused nation, China has survived because of the periodic fusion of new bloods which restored her vitality as a nation, he said.

He listed a number of characteristics of the Chinese people, including sanity, simplicity, a love of nature, fragility, fecundity, mellowness, patience, indifference, daintiness, and a capacity for happiness. A contrast between the people of Northern and Southern China was drawn by the reviewer, as well as a contrast with people of the Western Hemisphere.

Lauding lack of time in which to do justice to Dr. Lin's book, the reviewer told his audience: "I encourage you to read this book from beginning to end." Mr. Killough was introduced by Mrs. C. A. Coughlin, a member of the Delphin Club book review committee.

BLUM'S SUPPORTERS WARN AGAINST AID TO SPANISH

Paris, Nov. 13. (AP)—Moderate supporters of the Popular Front Government warned Friday they would bolt if Socialist Premier Leon Blum yields to a communist demand for last-minute intervention in Spain to save Madrid.

The government encountered another tempest in the threatened resignation of Defense Minister Edouard Daladier in protest against withdrawal approval of his rearmament program.

The Communist drive to bolster the Madrid defense was opened by Jacques Duclos, secretary of the party in France, at a meeting of popular front deputies. Duclos reminded the legislators of Blum's assertion last Monday that his government would scrap the international non-intervention agreement if Great Britain would do likewise.

The program was concluded with a comprehensive English drill conducted by Mrs. Horace Lovelady. She named six regular and irregular verbs which are frequently incorrectly used, and named a number of French words commonly mispronounced by Americans who have adopted them as a part of our vernacular.

Plans were made for the club's annual Christmas party to be given Dec. 9, the second Wednesday of the month. Members will bring clothing to be given to one or two needy families in the city. A committee appointed to select the family is composed of Mesdames R. J. Coffey, C. Y. Smith, and Lewis Greene, with Mrs. Coffey as chairman. ## Black-Draught High In Quality Without Being High In Price

Black-Draught is "easy to pay for" because it is so economically packaged and so reliable.

But as to quality, there's nothing "cheap" about it. For instance, its principal active ingredient is the leaves of a certain species of plant that are brought 10,000 miles from where they grow in the factory where the medicine is made. These leaves from far, far away, help to give Black-Draught its well-known "laxative reliability." They could not be left out, or substituted, without real loss of good medicinal quality.

For a good, purely vegetable laxative, insist on Black-Draught. About 25 doses in each 25-cent package.

Straw Vote Probe.

Only a veteran politician knows how to create a furor over small matters. A splendid illustration of this fact is furnished by Senator McKellar of Tennessee who proposes passage of a bill by Congress placing straw votes under control of the Federal Government.

The Senator is prompted to make this suggestion from the results of the Literary Digest poll on the recent presidential election. It would seem that the embarrassment of the Literary Digest should be sufficient without imposing further humiliation by means of a Senate investigation, but Senator McKellar feels that the public interest was placed in jeopardy because the poll was shown to be about one hundred per cent wrong. He expressed the fear that many people lost money betting on Governor Landon. He wishes to protect prospective bettors against misleading forecasts. He also expressed the belief that many people were led to vote the Republican ticket in the belief that they would thus be on the winning side.

It is evident that not many people were influenced to vote the Republican ticket on the strength of the Literary Digest forecast unless we are willing to believe that the Republicans really had no actual supporters.

There is no need to worry about straw votes. It is a more or less harmless pastime and people whose voting is influenced by them have such shallow convictions that they could hardly be expected to add much to any party. Really Senator McKellar should deal kindly with the Literary Digest and the Republican Party. Only tender nursing can offer any hope of restoring them to health.

The 12-Grade School.

Approval of the 12-grade public school system in use at Port Arthur by the State Department of Education reveals an interesting development in educational trends. The Port Arthur system has attracted much attention recently from the criticism of other high schools on the coast city's athletic schedule. Beaumont has taken the lead in the criticism with the claim that Port Arthur's 12-grade boys held an advantage over 11-grade boys. The Intercollegiate League found early this year that the claim was not well founded. A survey revealed that the Port Arthur team members were older and larger boys than the 25 other teams, but that 74 Texas teams representing 11-grade schools had older and larger boys than Port Arthur's team.

Aside from the athletic dispute the Port Arthur experiment is interesting. And after being in use 10 years it can hardly be called an experiment. A new bulletin used by the State Department offers a suggested plan for 12 grades in all Texas schools modeled on the setup in Port Arthur.

Four levels for a course of study are used. Each level covers three years of school work. Port Arthur has a lower per capita cost of instruction and tax assessments than in a number of 11-grade schools. Port Arthur ranked fifth with a cost of $45.43 in 1932-33; was lowest in 1933-34 with a per capita cost of $29.35; and was fourth in 1934-35 with an average of $38.17.

Among 10 schools surveyed in 1935-36 Port Arthur was second lowest in tax rates with an assessment of 65 cents on the $100. Austin was

TRADE GAINS ON INCREASE

RETAIL DISTRIBUTION IS GIVEN BOOST AS COOL WEATHER ARRIVES

New York, Nov. 13. (AP)—Nearly all branches of trade moved forward in a definite manner this week, Dun & Bradstreet reported Friday.

"The drop in temperatures made more expansive the spending mood of consumers," the agency's review of business said, "giving a surge to retail distribution in the majority of key centers."

"Buying in wholesale markets became more aggressive, as store stocks dwindled and further shortages appeared in items needed for the Christmas shopping season."

"Most of the rise in industrial schedules was contributed by the divisions attempting to expedite overdue shipments."

Retail distribution was estimated at from 3 to 8 per cent ahead of the preceding week and from 15 to 25 per cent better than the same week a year ago.

Percentage increases in the major geographical areas were: New England 14 to 20; East 15 to 23; Middle West 19 to 25; Northwest 16 to 25; South 18 to 30; Southwest 19 to 35, and Pacific Coast 10 to 17. A strike of marine workers on the Coast was partly responsible for the lesser gain in that area, the agency stated.

HEARINGS POSTPONED BY RAILROAD COMMISSION

Austin, Nov. 13. (AP)—The Railroad Commission Thursday postponed a hearing for six distributing companies ordered to show why they should pay more than 32 cents per 1,000 cubic feet of natural gas received at 250 city gates.

Waxahachie and Gainesville, Texas cities, Community Natural, Dallas and County Gas companies purchase gas from the Lone Star Gas Company, which in 1933 was ordered by the Commission to reduce gas rates 20 per cent. A Travis County District Court enjoined the order as unfair, but was reversed by the Third Court of Civil Appeals. The appellate court's reversal was sustained by the Supreme Court, and a motion for rehearing has been entered.

GOVERNOR ALLIED RETURNS TO OFFICE AFTER DEER HUNT

Austin, Nov. 13. (AP)—Governor Allred returned to his office Thursday after an absence of several weeks in New Mexico where he campaigned for the Democratic National ticket and hunted deer.

In both matters he was gratified, he said. The Democrats won and he killed a deer. Representative Herman Jones of Denton, who accompanied the Governor, also bagged a deer.

The Governor announced he would reappoint J. B. Keith of Stephenville a member of the Pardons Board when the constitutional amendment reorganizing that body was effective, Nov. 18.

Other members of the new Board will be appointed by the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court and the Presiding Judge of the Court of Criminal Appeals.

Members of the present Board, in addition to Keith, are T. C. Andrews of McKinney and Stanhope Henry of Austin.

OIL DRILLING RULE GETS ACTION ON COURT APPEAL

Austin, Nov. 13. (AP)—The Third Court of Civil Appeals ruled Thursday that a District Court was not invading the jurisdiction of the Railroad Commission in ordering an oil well drilled (illegally) to be plugged.

It also reaffirmed that Rule 37, the general well spacing regulation of the Commission, was valid.

Both declarations were in the case of W. C. Turnbow and others against the Barnsdall Oil Company and others involving legality of permits granted Turnbow by the Commission to drill two wells in Gregg County as exceptions to Rule 37.

The Travis County District Court held the permits should not have been granted and ordered the wells plugged. The permits were authorized without proper notice, the court ruled.

Magevney Estate Battle at End as Dispute Settled

Memphis, Tenn., Nov. 13. (AP)—Barring an appeal, the long legal battle over the Magevney millions was at an end Friday.

The dispute, revolving about the adoption of a child three decades ago, came to a close, temporarily at least, when Chancellor Lois D. Beahm ruled the Sacred Heart Academy of Galveston, Texas, and heirs to the late Eugene Magevney were entitled to the last $1,000,000 of the Magevney estate.

Mrs. Blanche Hamilton Karsch, adopted by Magevney's daughter, Mrs. Kate E. Hamilton, opposed the claim of the convent and Magevney heirs. The claim was based on a will of Sister Mary Agnes Magevney, founder of the Academy and sister of Mrs. Kate Hamilton.

Mrs. Karsch previously had won title to $1,500,000 of the Magevney personal estate and $1,000,000 of the real estate.

Mrs. Hamilton adopted Mrs. Karsch in 1897 after falling heir to the bulk of her father's estate. She died in 1930 without leaving a will and the legal complications arose.

Next of kin and blood heirs-at-law of Magevney and Mrs. Hamilton failed in an effort to have the adoption of Mrs. Karsch declared null and void. Instead, Chancery Court held Mrs. Karsch the legal heir of Mrs. Hamilton and entitled to the entire estate of $3,500,000.

A Supreme Court ruling, however, declared Mrs. Karsch entitled to the personal property and half the real estate, or $2,500,000.

The convent will receive about $600,000 in real estate and the heirs about $400,000 under the terms of an agreement between them.

STEWARDSHIP REVIVAL AT BAPTIST CHURCH PLANNED

The text is considered so helpful that 100 have been presented by the church to Sunday School, B. T. U., and church officials. J. O. Rouse will preside each evening, and Earl Maddin will direct elistment and membership. Music each evening will be under the direction of L. A. Wilson, with Miss Mattie Smith as accompanist. Special music numbers are also planned for the services.

FRISCO BRAKEMAN DROPS DEAD ON QUANAH STREET

Quanah, Nov. 13.—The body of Bert A. Herron, 56, Frisco Railway brakeman who dropped dead on a Quanah street Thursday, was forwarded to his home in Oklahoma City Friday. Later it will be sent to Monett, Mo., for burial Sunday.

Mr. Herron collapsed while walking down a street here and died immediately. Doctors pronounced his death due to heart failure. He had been suffering from a heart ailment for months.

Mr. Herron had been in the service of the Frisco for 43 years. He had been on the Quanah-Oklahoma City run only about 18 months, however. He was a veteran member of the Order of Railway Trainmen, and his funeral will be conducted under the auspices of that organization. He also was a veteran of the Spanish-American war.

Surviving are the widow and one son, Haley Herron, of Laramie, Wyo.

HALF-ACRE in EDEN

MARCIA CANFIELD, daughter of wealthy PHILIP CANFIELD, knows that the neighborhood is buzzing with gossip over the sudden disappearance of FRANK KENDRICK, whose engagement to Marcia has been announced.

Since his disappearance, a shortage in Kendrick's accounts has been discovered.

Refusing to let others know how deeply she has been hurt, Marcia, who is interested in amateur dramatics, goes to the tryouts for a part in the new play.

HELEN WADDELL, Marcia's closest friend, also attends the try-outs. After some indecision, Marcia is given the lead in the play. DOROTHY OSBORN, who dislikes Marcia, is given a less important part. NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER III
It was a custom in Bobba Neck to cap almost any evening's pastime or endeavor with hamburger sandwiches and coffee at the Dog Wagon, the only restaurant in town which remained open all night. Here milkmen and other night drivers and the suburban railroad train crews shared counter and tables with formal dress customers on their way home from parties.

Thus to the Dog Wagon came Marcia Canfield and Helen Waddell and a dozen or so other newly-ordained actors and actresses, after the Stagecraft Guild tryouts. It was a mid-week night, and bitterly cold, so that fewer townspeople than usual were abroad, and as the hour was only midnight the regular crowd of night-working customers had not yet assembled. None of the counter stools was occupied, so that all of the Stagecraft Guild group found seats together, in a long and noisy row.

Tony Stellief, the young "chef," to whom the acquaintance he formed among the patrons were far more sustaining than all the food in the place, chose to take their orders himself, waving the inevitable attendant waiter away from such intimate contact with the elite. Although he knew that each of the crowd would most assuredly call for the traditional hamburgers and coffee, he inquired and received the information, person by person down the long line, with poise and tone which would have graced a far more pretentious board.

Having served with that dispatch which characterizes lunch counters and is equaled nowhere else in the world, Tony leaned on the cash register and looked affectionately upon the social cream of the night's business. At 25, Tony found life good.

He had a nice job where he met people; although his mother was dead he managed to maintain a comfortable home for his semi-invalid father; he had friends and the endless variety of suburban and waterfront recreations. He had also, he reflected—but then the glare of headlights through the restaurant windows caused him to turn and look out at the frost-smeared panes. Two cars had stopped in the diagonal parking spaces at the curb. Their lights went out; Tony did not know that their engines were still turning over. Nor did he know that while four men crossed the sidewalk toward the restaurant, a man remained at the wheel of each car and still another man had taken shelter in a doorway at the street intersection, a dozen paces away.

The four entered the restaurant, stopping just inside the door to stamp the snow off their shoes and cars the chill out of their hands. It was not surprising that their coat collars were pulled high and their hats low over their faces, for the wind was strong and snow was flying. Three of the men started toward seats at the rear end of the counter; the fourth paused, head bent, to remove his eye glasses and wipe the steam from them.

Tony moved down the counter toward the three who were taking seats. Midway, he was halted by sight of a pistol in the hand of one, and by the voice of the man who had waited near the door.

"This is a stickup!" said the voice, without nervousness. "Everybody remain seated. Keep your hands above the counter. We've got you covered from both ends!"

Tony looked around. The man near the door had replaced his glasses, and he held his pistol so that it was hidden from view of anyone who might look in from outside. The man at the rear who also held a pistol had taken a stool and was pointing the gun along the counter top. The two other men at once moved expertly along the line of customers, emptying all pockets within their reach and taking the girls' handbags from counter or laps.

"And you, chef," the voice of the leader continued, "lean on the counter, with both hands! You, too, waiter! Talk to the customers. You folks go on eating. Don't anybody put his hands below the counter!"

Tony watched the two men who were making the quick collection of valuables. Watched them bitterly. He was proud of the little restaurant, proud of his job. He felt that somehow the honor of his employer and of himself was being ruined; his position here was as host, the customers were as guests.

The two men came opposite; Tony watched them narrowly. They bent over the seated customers, with heads down to their task. A cleaver and knives were within Tony's reach, but a gun at each end of the counter! No use resisting; Tony's reading of the fundamentals of behavior in the presence of bandits. But if only he could recognize one of the robbers! The collection was finished and the two men with the loot left the restaurant. The man at the rear rose from his stool held his pistol in a pocket and joined his companion at the door. The latter tried to reach the cash register, on a shelf back of the counter, but failed.

"Come here, chef," he called. "Hold your hands together, down in front of you. Open this machine."

Tony walked toward him. He heard one car back from the curb and move off. Furiously his mind sought some means of thwarting these remaining bandits. But there appeared to be no help. Angriely he pressed the "No Sale" key and the cash drawer opened.

The man with the glasses reached for the hills, leaning far over the counter. His face, Tony thought, was not one he knew. The other man stood with his back to the restaurant, a hand on the doorknob. Tony thought of the telephone, and glanced at it over his shoulder. The glance was not lost on the cash drawer looter. He murmured something to his companion.

The man at the door drew from a pocket and handed over an exceptionally large pair of pliers. The man with the spectacles reached across the counter and snapped a phone wire with the cutting edge of the tool. Tony stiffened, as if he had had a physical shock. The robbers went out, with a parting admonition. There was the sound of the second car pulling away.

With a sob, Tony ran around the end of the counter to the door. "I'll get the cops!" he called back, and dashed out, heedless of the weather. Racing down the street to the police station, two blocks away, he fought for composure, welcomed the wind chilling his hot face.

He had recognized the pliers. The police sergeant and two patrolmen, routed from the comfort of the station house, found the Dog Wagon's customers quite recovered from any fright, but the thrill remained and a tornado of talk was in progress.

After a futile few moments the sergeant conceived the idea of pursuit along the bandit's automobile tracks in the fresh snow, and the patrolmen set out in their car, returning soon, however, to report that the tracks had all but disappeared by reason of the wind and continuing snow fall and, anyway, they were found imbricate with other fading tracks on the main highway.

The sergeant meanwhile, having sent out such alarms as occurred to him and which he relayed by various messengers to the police station, began the tedious task of listing the money and articles stolen. He was somewhat hampered by the fact that general conversation continued at high speed, frequently including even the person whom the sergeant was trying to question. Fortunately no individual loss appeared to have been great. Several persons had been robbed of watches, all had lost money, from small change to $10 or so. Someone remarked that the robbers should have waited until a Saturday night, when wallets would have been full.

It was the arrival of the first of the milkmen's hour customers which caused the sergeant to adjourn the questioning to the police station, and he ordered all concerned, excepting Tony, to follow him.

"Didn't recognize any of the guys, eh, Tony?" the officer asked as he started out.

"Never saw any of them before, far as I know," Tony replied, hoping his voice was steady.

"Well, I'll see you later, when I've finished with these," said the sergeant, motioning the company to join him.

All of the Stagecraft group went out, still talking excitedly, exchanging constantly revised notes on their reactions. Tony turned to the new customers.

The new customers wanted to know all about it. Tony gave them the first of a series of recitals that was to continue, as other customers arrived, until dawn, when the day chef came on duty.

Taking off her gloves at the police station, Marcia gasped. She had for a time forgotten one item among the contents of her handbag, now miles away in the possession of the bandits. Her mother's ring!

The ring was years old and wearing thin, so that its sharp edge hurt the finger. During the day Marcia had removed it and dropped it into her bag, intending to have it repaired. She had forgotten the fact until, stripping off her gloves, she noticed her hand bare of its usual single ornament.

It was the most cherished of her possessions, a ruby ring that her mother had left to a very young Marcia, 17 years ago. It had always seemed a most enduring link to the mother whom Marcia, as she grew up, couldn't remember very well.

The sergeant laboriously wrote down its description.

Tony Stellief stopped in at the police station on his way home from work at dawn. As he discussed the robbery with the sergeant, he glanced through the list of articles stolen. After the name of Marcia Canfield he read of the ring. It was described in some detail, and—"It was the lady's mother's," the sergeant had written.

Tony went home with tight lips. He, too, had the childhood memory of a mother. It only made harder the job he saw ahead.

GRIDIRON HEROES

THE Fighting Irish of Notre Dame have filled football's annals with stirring deeds. George Gipp! Knute Rockne! Gus Dorais! Frank Cardel! Johnny O'Brien! But one of the Ramblers who starred under difficulties, and who now holds the highest position in Irish football, is Elmer Layden, current Notre Dame coach, who, as a 160-pound fullback, probably was the greatest performer in that position at that weight in the history of the game.

Layden, one of the immortal Four Horsemen, alternated with Harry Stuhldreier at quarterback in his sophomore year of 1922, and played half.

The following year he filled the fullback assignment, and the Irish lost only one game. In 1924 the Ramblers were undefeated, and Layden was a big help.

WOMAN CLAIMS
"BABY MOSES"HUSBAND STANDS BY WIFE
AFTER MOTHERHOOD OF CHILD IS ADMITTEDPearl River, La., Nov. 13. (P)— Louis Crawford, backwoods WPA worker, stood by his wife Friday in the face of her acknowledgment of the motherhood of "Baby Moses.""I love Effie," Louis Crawford said simply, after his 24-year-old wife—20 years his junior—declared false her story that she had snatched it from the mouth of a dog that brought it to their doorstep.She told authorities she invented the first account because she did not want her husband to know she bore the infant.
Mrs. Crawford said she slipped from her husband's bed Sunday night and gave birth to the baby in the piney woods outside their one-room cabin. She said she hid it in fright for two days before showing it to Crawford and telling him a big, brindle dog brought it to the house wrapped in a cloth.Meanwhile, the blue-eyed, six-pound boy remained in a New Orleans hospital while District Attorney C. Sidney Frederick said he would ask the coroner to examine Mrs. Crawford in an effort to determine if she is the child's mother.The baby—Mrs. Crawford had said she wanted to adopt it and name it "Moses," because it was found by a miracle—was reported suffering a slight cold at the hospital but otherwise was in good health.
Grim-faced male relatives of Crawford were gathered about the single room when a reporter questioned the distracted woman in the isolated home.Mrs. Crawford refused to talk in their presence, but barefooted, led a reporter out to a pigsty and told him the story."I didn't want them all to hear," she explained while her two other children cried from inside the cabin.
Asked how he felt about it, her husband replied simply:
"I love Effie."

Second Appearance.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 13. (P)—"Have you ever been in this court before?"
asked Recorder's Judge Christopher Stein. "Yes, Your Honor," replied Defendant Fred Schoenrock, 64, charged with drunkenness, "42 years ago for racing my horse with a laundry wagon." "Case dismissed," said Judge Stein.

BAPTISTS LAUNCH CRUSADE ON LIQUOR TRAFFIC, GAMBLING AS SOCIAL EVILS ARE DENOUNCEDMineral Wells, Nov. 13. (P)—Blistering denunciation of gambling, liquor and obscene spectacles roused Texas Baptists Friday to launch a new crusade against these social evils."The situation today with respect to legalized liquor traffic is worse than it was in the darkest days of the saloon," the civic righteousness committee reported to the Baptist General Convention in its closing session."The gambling craze seems to be sweeping our State and National in an unprecedented way," the report continued. "People are being tempted with every conceivable gambling device. Men with spend their 'bread money' in an attempt to get something for nothing.""There was a time when our children were shielded from vulgar and obscene spectacles. That day, however, seems to be gone.""No civilization can be strengthened nor can ideals of its people be raised when they are exposed daily to acts of free love, nude forms and cheap music."
"Someone has said that the home is the bulwark of civilization. It may also be well said that the home is the vehicle upon which civilization travels."The committee declared Texas Battists, more than 600,000 strong, should "in thunderous tones, denounce gambling and demand repeal of all laws legalizing gambling in this State."The committee said during the campaign for repeal citizens weretold legalization would decrease drinking and stamp out the boot-legger."We were told people drank not because they wanted it but because it was difficult to procure," said the Rev. John L. Wharton, pastor of the First Baptist Church at Longview and chairman of the committee. "We have found, however, almost every claim made for the virtues of repeal has proven to be false and every promise made by the wets has been broken.""The beer and liquor joint with its windows obscured, its lights dimmed, its booths to afford further privacy —with a dance floor as adjunct and tourist facilities as another—is a combination as vicious as any that ever has been devised to debauch the morals of a rising generation."The Rev. Mr. Wharton offered as a solution "education—from kindergarten to the university—and vote as we pray: for complete abolition of the liquor traffic."The committee said school children had been known to gamble their lunch money and go without food.
"For the State to legalize gambling would seem to your committee to place its approval upon allowing shrewd and designing men to prey upon the common weakness of many people," the report said.It declared that in accepting money for gambling license the "State actually becomes a partner in this wholly unworthy enterprise."
Dr. F. M. McConnell of Dallas, editor of the Baptist Standard, announced that a committee of 100 was being formed to fight for repealof State laws which permit pari-mutuel wagering at horse and dog racing tracks.PIONEER DOCTOR DIES
AT HOME IN QUANAHQuanah, Nov. 13.—Funeral services for Dr. C. W. Hodge, 84, prominent pioneer physician of Northwest
Texas, who died at his home here
Wednesday night, were held Friday morning at 10 o'clock from the First Methodist Church of this city with Rev. Frank Taylor, Presbyterian minister, in charge. Burial was in the Quanah cemetery.Dr. Hodge was well known throughout this section and was prominently identified in medical circles of the State before his retirement several years ago. He came to Quanah in 1889 from Stephenville. A native of Calhoun, La., Dr. Hodge graduated from Tulane University in 1882 and was married to Mrs. Leona Goshorn a short time later. His wife died a number of years ago.Surviving are a daughter, who lives in Fort Worth; a step-son, Frank Goshorn; and several grandchildren.Peshastin, Wash., Nov. 13. (P)—
The Chamber of Commerce scheduled a dinner, then discovered so many members were working overtime in fruit warehouses it had to be postponed indefinitely.

[QUESTIONS THAT ARE ASKED ABOUT BANKING]

"What does 'liquid' mean in banking?"THE term "liquid" in banking, is used to denote assets in the form of cash or readily convertible into cash.A bank does not keep all of its depositors' money in currency and coins, for such money would stand idle. Some is used to buy Government or other bonds and commercial paper, and some to make short-term loans. These are liquid, because they may be quickly converted into cash. Long-term investments, such as mortgages, are not considered as liquid because they cannot always be turned into cash promptly and without sacrifice—even though they represent sound value.One of the banker's problems is to keep his bank liquid enough to satisfy all probable demands of depositors for funds, and yet participate, by sound loans, in the constructive development of the community.
